

AHS1001 : Medical Terminology

This course is an introduction to medical terminology and the language of health care. Students will be able to read and comprehend terminology used in a variety of medical records and reports by focusing on the definition, spelling and pronunciation of medical terms relating to the human body with an emphasis on understanding the root words, prefixes and suffixes used in health care settings.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisites

ENG0099 or exemption from ENG0099

Corequisites

None