

MIS6161 : Human Computer Interaction

This course is a study of effective and productive interfaces. Topics may include design and evaluation of interactive computer systems, input and output devices, screen layouts, machine design, health issues and ergonomics, and organizational impacts.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisites

MIS6000: Principles of System Development

MIS6010: Project Management

MIS6020: Corporate Information Systems Management

Corequisites

None