

ITS2108 : Human Computer Interface

This course introduces Interaction Design, a broad scope of issues, topics and paradigms, which has traditionally been the scope of Human Computer Interaction (HCI) and Interaction Design (IS). Students will formulate a design project, applying usability concepts and intuitive design. Students will construct interactive designs for specific software interfaces appropriate for the client and/or target audience.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisites

ITS1101: Foundations of Information Technology

Corequisites

None