ITS3100 : Software Engineering Fundamentals

This course introduces the principles of software development, addressing both procedural and object-oriented development. Topics include: requirements, analysis, design, coding, testing, verification, and maintenance. Students will design and implement a project.

Credits 4.0
Prerequisites
ITS2105: Programming I
Corequisites
None