ITS4011 : IT Project Management

This course focuses on the information technology project management process and development of the project team as key to the successful achievement of IT projects. The process examines the main elements required in every proposal/ plan: time frame and budget. Key areas of IT project teams serve to support the fundamental approach that every project team is tailored to achieve project results efficiently and effectively.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisites

ITS3110: Applied Systems Analysis

Corequisites

None