

PHA3134 : Biochemistry

This course is focused on fundamentals of vitamins, enzymes, proteins, nucleic acids, carbohydrates, and lipids as applied to biomedical sciences. This course will provide an understanding of the biochemical processes of these biomolecules and their clinical significance to the practice of pharmacy.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisites

None

Corequisites

None

Notes

Quarter 2