

PHA5001 : General Pharmacology I

Gain knowledge of basic and applied pharmacology necessary for health care professionals. Explore essential pharmacological principles with special emphasis on pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics. Examine medications used in the treatment of disease processes of the endocrine, autonomic, and central nervous systems.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisites

Admission to the Anesthesiologist Assistant Program

Corequisites

None