

PHA5333 : Drug Information, Literature Evaluation, Research Design and Methods

This course engages students in drug information and literature retrieval, interpretation, and application to clinical practice including communication of findings to patients, healthcare professionals, and regulatory organizations. These skill sets assist pharmacists with conducting practice activities that promote optimal health outcomes while minimizing/avoiding adverse events.

Credits 3.0

Prerequisites

None

Corequisites

None

Notes

Quarter 7