

PAS5102 : Medical Interviewing and Documentation

Medical communication skills are essential in health care. Students identify the components of a complete and focused medical history utilizing effective interviewing skills. Documentation of patient encounters in a variety of settings will be explored.

Credits 3.0

Prerequisites

Admission to the Physician Assistant Program

Corequisites

None