PSY2007 : Statistics for Behavioral Sciences

An investigation of the methodological principles regarding behavioral science research, descriptive and inferential techniques, and the process of using these techniques for psychological experimentation and data analysis.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisites

PSY1001 and MAT2058 with grades of "C" or better

Corequisites

None