

CNS6602 : Lifestyle and Career Development

This course includes studies that provide an understanding of career development theories and decision-making models; occupational and educational information sources and systems; assessment instruments and techniques relevant to career planning and decision-making; career, lifestyle, and leisure counseling, guidance and education; and career development program planning, resources, and effectiveness evaluation. Students also focus on counseling techniques involving special populations, the role of technology, counselor self-evaluation (e.g., moral), ethical, and legal considerations.

Credits 4.5

Prerequisites

None

Corequisites

None

Notes

Quarter 4 or Quarter 7 or Approval of the Program Director