

MCJ6505 : Management of Critical Incidents

This course will examine the policies and systems necessary to govern in a wide variety of emergency situations. It will explore appropriate responses to serious incidents and disasters. Students will learn the techniques involved in planning and preparing for crises, and forecasting potential crisis situations.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisites

None

Corequisites

None