

HSC3070 : Medical Informatics

This course details the history of medical information and biomedical communication. Participants will study information resources and services related to the transfer of information in the health sciences and integral computer applications to health sciences libraries including the organizational structure of medical knowledge. The course will familiarize students with the concept of information management and the application of information technology to health care. Participants will analyze current issues in the health care field and the relationship to health sciences libraries and information centers.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisites

BIO2015, HSC2010, HCM2005

Corequisites

None