PAS5370 : Medical Ethics

The integration of law and ethics within the practice of medicine impacts patient management. Students examine their professional responsibility, duty to treat, and patient advocacy through ethical problem-solving skills. Through discussion, analysis, and case-based scenarios, students examine dilemmas faced by those in clinical practice.

Credits 2.0

Prerequisites
Successful completion of coursework in preceding academic quarter

Corequisites
None